and Stoney Grove Pasture the people were asked to boo and insult Mr. Barber and (as Mr. Barber had put it) to drive him from the island of Nevis. The defendants would contend that the sole purpose of the speech made at Warner Park and their coming to Nevis was in support of the right in public to enter a well defined path leading from the northeast side of the bath stream to a point or two points along the stream where from time immemorial the people were accustomed to bathe and consequently there was no trespass and no conspiracy to trespass. The defendants further contend that the failure of the servant to take up employment had nothing to do with the act of any of them. They would establish that the stream is the property of the Government of St. Kitts Nevis; that the Government cleaned the stream from time immemorial and did so from public funds before the coming of Mr. Barber and continue to do so.

This outline was followed by a discussion as to the legal implication of the expression "from time immemorial."

The court was adjourned at 12.45 p.m. to 2 p.m.
